

New Books in the Center for Mennonite Brethren Studies

Gunther, J. Wesley. The Waters Run Deep: A Family Story of Triumph Over Adversity. Dumfries, Va.: Chalfont House, 2009.

Roth, John D. Practices: Mennonite Worship and Witness. Scottsdale, Pa.: Herald Press, 2009.

Schlabach, Theron F. War, Peace, and Social Conscience: Guy F. Hershberger and Mennonite Ethics. Scottsdale, Pa.: Herald Press, 2009.

Sharp, John E. A School on the Prairie: A Centennial History of Hesston College, 1909-2009. Telford, Pa.: Cascadia Press, 2009.

Yoder, John Howard. The War of the Lamb: The Ethics of Nonviolence and Peacemaking. Grand Rapids: Brazos Press, 2009.

Yoder, John Howard. Christian Attitudes Toward War, Peace, and Revolution. Grand Rapids: Brazos Press, 2009.

In his book, The Waters Run Deep, J. Wesley Gunther of Reedley, California, explores his family history as his ancestors fled from European countries (including Prussia) to find a place that granted them religious freedom. In their pursuit of freedom, life was often unrelentingly harsh. From Prussia to Russia to the prairies of North America, and finally to California, the family survived wars, the Great Depression, and emotional upheaval along the way. This family's story may be its own story, specific to Gunther's family, but it also provides a window to the struggles of many families who came to the United States and Canada along different routes and for varying reasons. J. Wesley Gunther grew up on a cotton farm near Dinuba, California, and is married to Beverly (Friesen) Gunther. (Cover design by Tessa Williamson.)